The READY Life
BUILD ON PURPOSE with Crystal L. Jackson

Build On Purpose | Schedule Your Future

Your vision needs room on your calendar. Week 7 of the 10-week Build On Purpose experience is about scheduling time for your READY 3...the three top priorities or goals connected to the vision you wrote.

What tasks will move those goals forward, and when will you do them? Consistently making time for those actions is how we bring the vision to life.

THE MINDSET

Coffee with Crystal : No One Is Coming to Save You

We are responsible for taking every part of our lives...the good, the bad, and the ugly...and deciding how we will use it to build the life we want.

Sometimes that means returning to Week 1: Be Still Before You Build. Get centered, get honest, and realign with your vision. Use the tools you've been given, reach out for support, and take responsibility for your next move.

The truth is, WE are responsible for WE. Yes, I said it. 😂

READY REFLECTION

Where have I been waiting for someone else to make a decision or take an action that is mine to own?

THE STRATEGY | Win the Week

DECIDE: What is helping me move forward, and what am I continuing simply because it's familiar?

DECLARE: "I will measure my progress against my vision and make room for what serves my next chapter."

DO: Keep what works, adjust what needs to change, and release what no longer serves you. Schedule one action this week that supports your READY 3.

Realtors, What Could We Build Together in 2027?
I'm looking to partner with Realtors serving Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, and Los Angeles who want to make a lasting impact in our communities.

Let's build a strategy around education, planning, accountability, and helping people understand how homeownership can support their long-term goals. Together, we can create conversations and experiences that help families prepare, make informed decisions, and see the possibilities beyond a single transaction.

📅 Schedule a FREE consultation and let's build your strategy.
